

WATTEN POWER LIMITED

Privacy Policy

Effective Date: 01 May 2025

Company Number: 17050993

Registered Office: Office 2, 60 Gold Street, Northampton, United Kingdom, NN1 1RS

ICO Registration: [To be confirmed]

This Privacy Policy sets out how Watten Power Limited ("Watten Power", "we", "us", "our") collects, uses, stores, shares, and protects personal information when you interact with us — whether through our website at www.wattenpower.com, through the products and services we supply, or through any other channel by which you engage with our business.

Watten Power Limited is registered in England and Wales under company number 17050993. Our registered office is at Office 2, 60 Gold Street, Northampton, United Kingdom, NN1 1RS. We are committed to processing personal data responsibly and in full compliance with the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR) and the Data Protection Act 2018.

We ask that you read this policy carefully. If you have any questions or concerns about how we handle your personal information, please contact us using the details in Section 2 below.

1. Who This Policy Applies To

This Privacy Policy applies to all individuals whose personal data we process, including:

- visitors to the Watten Power website
- customers who purchase or enquire about our products and services
- individuals who register a product warranty
- installers, contractors, and trade partners engaged by or working alongside Watten Power
- distributors, resellers, and other business contacts
- individuals who contact us by telephone, email, live chat, or through social media
- job applicants and prospective employees

This policy does not apply to third-party websites linked from our site. We encourage you to review the privacy policies of any external sites you visit.

2. How to Contact Us

If you wish to exercise your data rights, raise a concern, or simply ask a question about this policy or how we use your personal information, please reach out to us using any of the following:

Watten Power Limited

Email: info@wattenpower.com

Website: www.wattenpower.com

Address: Office 2, 60 Gold Street, Northampton, NN1 1RS, United Kingdom

Telephone: [To be confirmed]

You also have the right to raise concerns directly with the UK's supervisory authority for data protection — the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) — at any time. The ICO can be contacted at www.ico.org.uk or by telephone on 0303 123 1113.

3. Personal Data We Collect

We collect only the personal data that is necessary for the purposes described in this policy. The categories of data we may hold about you are set out below.

3.1 Information You Provide Directly

When you contact us, place an order, register a product, or complete a form on our Website, you may provide us with:

- your full name, home or business address, email address, and telephone number
- enquiry details, messages, or questions submitted via contact forms or email
- order information including products selected, quantities, delivery instructions, and billing details
- payment information — note this is processed by secure third-party payment providers and is not stored directly by Watten Power
- warranty registration details, including product serial numbers and installation dates
- feedback, survey responses, or reviews you choose to submit
- recruitment information such as CVs, covering letters, employment history, and professional qualifications

3.2 Information Collected Automatically via the Website

When you browse our Website, certain technical data is collected automatically, including:

- your IP address and approximate geographic location
- browser type, version, and device information
- pages visited, time spent on each page, and navigation paths
- referring website or search engine
- cookies and analytics identifiers (see our Cookie Policy for full details)

3.3 Data Generated by Watten Power Products

Where you use connected products supplied by Watten Power — such as solar inverters, battery energy storage systems, or EV charging equipment — we may collect operational and performance data, including:

- device serial numbers and firmware version
- installation address and site configuration details
- energy generation, consumption, export, and charging data
- system performance metrics, error logs, and diagnostic information
- connectivity status (e.g. network connection state, not passwords)
- interaction data from associated apps, portals, or dashboards

This data is used to operate the product correctly, provide remote diagnostics, deliver software updates, and improve overall product performance.

3.4 Information from Installers and Trade Partners

Where we work with installers, engineers, or distributors, we may hold:

- business name, trading address, and primary contact details
- relevant qualifications, accreditations, and registration numbers (e.g. MCS, NICEIC)
- scheduling and job completion records
- communication history relating to orders, projects, or technical queries

3.5 Data Received from Third-Party Platforms

If you engage with Watten Power via social media platforms such as LinkedIn, Facebook, or Instagram, we may receive limited information from those platforms in accordance with your account privacy settings, including your name, profile identifier, and any messages you send us.

4. How We Use Personal Data

We process personal data only where there is a clear and lawful purpose for doing so. The main purposes for which we use your information are set out below.

4.1 Delivering Products and Services

- processing and fulfilling your orders, including payment and delivery coordination
- registering and administering product warranties
- providing technical and customer support
- coordinating installation services with our approved installer network
- operating connected product features, dashboards, and associated applications

4.2 Managing Our Business Relationships

- maintaining records of your account, purchases, and service history
- processing invoices, purchase orders, and supplier payments
- managing relationships with our installer, trade, and distribution partners
- responding to enquiries, complaints, and service requests

4.3 Product Improvement and Research

- analysing product performance data to identify faults, trends, and improvement opportunities
- conducting research into energy usage patterns to enhance product design
- measuring Website performance and improving user experience
- understanding customer needs and market developments

4.4 Marketing and Communications

- sending information about our products, services, and promotions where you have consented or where we have a legitimate interest as an existing customer
- issuing service notifications, product updates, and safety communications
- inviting participation in surveys and customer satisfaction programmes

You may opt out of marketing communications at any time. See Section 10 for further details.

4.5 Compliance with Legal and Regulatory Obligations

- maintaining records required by HMRC and applicable accounting standards
- complying with consumer protection, product safety, and warranty obligations
- meeting requirements arising from grid connection regulations, MCS certification, and DNO schemes
- responding to lawful requests from courts, regulators, or law enforcement authorities

4.6 Security and Fraud Prevention

- verifying the identity of customers and business contacts
- detecting and investigating suspicious or fraudulent activity
- protecting the security and integrity of our IT systems and physical assets
- safeguarding customer data from unauthorised access or disclosure

5. Legal Basis for Processing

Under the UK GDPR, we are required to identify a valid legal basis for each type of personal data processing we carry out. The table below summarises the legal bases we rely on:

Legal Basis	When We Rely On It
Contract Performance	When processing is necessary to fulfil an order, deliver a service, or administer a warranty
Legal Obligation	Where we are required by law to process data, such as for tax records or regulatory reporting
Legitimate Interests	For activities such as fraud prevention, product improvement, business analytics, and business-to-business marketing, where our interests are balanced against your rights
Consent	For direct marketing communications, optional cookies, and certain data sharing arrangements — where you have provided clear, informed agreement

Where we rely on consent, you have the right to withdraw that consent at any time without affecting the lawfulness of processing that occurred prior to withdrawal.

6. How We Share Personal Data

Watten Power does not sell, rent, or trade your personal information to third parties for their own commercial purposes. We may, however, share data with carefully selected third parties in the following circumstances:

6.1 Approved Installers and Service Engineers

Where installation, commissioning, or maintenance services are required, we may share relevant customer and site information with our approved installer partners solely for the purpose of carrying out the agreed works.

6.2 Delivery and Logistics Providers

We share necessary order and delivery information with carriers and fulfilment partners responsible for transporting products to you.

6.3 Technology and Service Providers

We engage trusted third-party providers to support our operations. These may include:

- cloud hosting, storage, and infrastructure providers
- IT support, cybersecurity, and software service providers
- payment processing platforms (who handle card data independently under their own security standards)
- customer relationship management (CRM) and marketing automation tools
- website analytics and performance monitoring services

6.4 Professional Advisers

We may share information with solicitors, accountants, auditors, and insurers where required for legal, financial, or risk management purposes.

6.5 Energy and Grid Partners

Where a customer participates in smart energy services, export tariff schemes, or grid-response programmes, relevant technical and usage data may be shared with the relevant energy provider or network operator, but only with your knowledge and where appropriate.

6.6 Authorities and Regulators

We may disclose personal data to law enforcement agencies, courts, regulators, or government bodies where we are legally required to do so, or where it is necessary to protect the rights and safety of individuals.

6.7 Business Transfers

In the event that Watten Power is subject to a merger, acquisition, reorganisation, or sale of assets, personal data held by us may form part of the transferred assets. We will take reasonable steps to ensure that any successor entity continues to protect your data in accordance with applicable law.

7. International Transfers of Personal Data

Some of the third-party service providers we engage may process personal data outside the United Kingdom, for example where cloud infrastructure or software platforms are hosted internationally. Where such transfers occur, we ensure that appropriate safeguards are in place, which may include:

- transfers to countries that benefit from UK adequacy regulations, recognising that they provide an equivalent level of data protection
- the use of International Data Transfer Agreements (IDTAs) or UK Addenda to Standard Contractual Clauses
- binding corporate rules or other approved mechanisms offering equivalent protection

If you would like further information about the safeguards governing any international transfer of your data, please contact us at info@wattenpower.com.

8. How Long We Retain Personal Data

We retain personal data for no longer than is necessary for the purpose for which it was collected, or as required by applicable law. The following general principles govern our retention approach:

Data Category	Typical Retention Period	Reason
Customer order and transaction records	7 years from the date of transaction	HMRC and legal compliance
Warranty registration data	Duration of warranty + 2 years	After-sales support and legal claims
Product performance and diagnostics	Up to 5 years	Product improvement and fault analysis
Enquiry and contact records	Up to 3 years from last contact	Responding to follow-up queries
Marketing consent records	Until consent is withdrawn + 1 year	Demonstrating lawful basis
Recruitment applications	6 months (unsuccessful) / duration of employment	Legal and HR obligations

Where data is no longer required, it will be securely deleted or anonymised so that it can no longer be associated with any individual.

9. How We Protect Personal Data

We take the security of your personal information seriously and have implemented a range of technical and organisational measures to protect it from loss, misuse, unauthorised access, alteration, or disclosure. These measures include:

- encryption of data in transit and at rest where appropriate
- role-based access controls, ensuring staff can only access the data necessary for their role
- strong authentication requirements for systems holding personal data
- regular security patching, software updates, and vulnerability monitoring
- intrusion detection and malware protection systems
- staff training and awareness programmes covering data handling and privacy obligations
- physical access controls at premises where personal data is processed

While we take all reasonable precautions, no transmission of data over the internet can be guaranteed to be completely secure. If you have reason to believe that your interaction with us has been compromised, please notify us promptly at info@wattenpower.com.

10. Your Rights Under UK GDPR

Under the UK GDPR and the Data Protection Act 2018, you have a number of rights in relation to your personal data. These are summarised below:

Your Right	What It Means
Right to be Informed	You have the right to know how and why we process your personal data — which is the purpose of this policy.

Your Right	What It Means
Right of Access	You may request a copy of the personal data we hold about you, free of charge, by submitting a Subject Access Request (SAR).
Right to Rectification	You may ask us to correct any inaccurate or incomplete personal data we hold.
Right to Erasure	You may request that we delete your personal data where it is no longer necessary, where consent has been withdrawn, or where processing is unlawful.
Right to Restrict Processing	You may ask us to pause the processing of your data in certain circumstances, for example while the accuracy of data is contested.
Right to Data Portability	Where processing is based on consent or contract and carried out by automated means, you may request your data in a structured, machine-readable format.
Right to Object	You may object to processing carried out on the basis of legitimate interests, including direct marketing. We will stop unless we can demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds.
Right to Withdraw Consent	Where processing is based on your consent, you may withdraw it at any time without detriment.

To exercise any of these rights, please contact us at info@wattenpower.com. We will respond to your request within one calendar month. In some circumstances we may need to verify your identity before we are able to fulfil a request. There is no charge for exercising your rights, except in cases of requests that are manifestly unfounded or excessive.

If you are not satisfied with our response, you have the right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) at www.ico.org.uk.

11. Marketing Communications

We will only send you marketing communications where we have a lawful basis to do so. This means either:

- you have given us your explicit consent to receive marketing from us, or
- you are an existing customer and we are communicating about products or services that are similar to those you have already purchased (soft opt-in)

Every marketing communication we send will include a clear and easy way to unsubscribe or opt out. You may also withdraw your consent or object to marketing at any time by:

- clicking the unsubscribe link in any marketing email we send
- emailing info@wattenpower.com with your request

We will never send unsolicited bulk communications, share your contact details with third parties for their own marketing purposes, or engage in any form of unlawful targeting.

12. Cookies and Tracking Technologies

Our Website uses cookies and similar technologies to support core functionality, measure traffic, and where you consent, to personalise your experience and deliver relevant advertising. Full details of the cookies we use, how long they are retained, and how you can manage your preferences are set out in our separate Cookie Policy, which is available on our Website.

Where cookies process personal data, this policy applies in addition to the Cookie Policy.

13. Children's Privacy

Our Website, products, and services are not directed at children under the age of 16, and we do not knowingly collect personal data from children. If you believe that a child has provided us with personal information without appropriate parental or guardian consent, please contact us immediately at info@wattenpower.com and we will take prompt action to remove the relevant data.

14. Automated Decision-Making and Profiling

Watten Power does not currently make decisions about individuals that are based solely on automated processing and that produce legal or similarly significant effects. If this position changes in future, we will update this policy accordingly and, where required by law, seek your consent or provide you with the right to request human review of any automated decision.

15. Changes to This Privacy Policy

We keep this Privacy Policy under regular review and will update it to reflect changes in law, updates to our services, or improvements in data protection practices. The effective date at the top of this document will always reflect when the most recent revision was made.

Where changes are material — such as a significant change to how we use your data or to your rights — we will take appropriate steps to draw this to your attention, which may include displaying a notice on the Website or notifying you directly where required. We encourage you to revisit this policy periodically.

16. Contacting the Information Commissioner's Office

If you have concerns about the way Watten Power handles your personal data that we have been unable to resolve to your satisfaction, you have the right to raise a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO), the UK's independent supervisory authority for data protection:

Information Commissioner's Office (ICO)
